

Contents

Introduction

Chapter 1. Introduction to treasury management

Chapter 2. Assets and liabilities management

2.1 Assets management

2.2 Liabilities management

Chapter 3. Cash management

3.1 Cash management functions

3.2 Automation of cash management

Chapter 4. Financial risk management

4.1 Why manage financial risk?

4.2 Principal finance related risks

4.3 Management of financial risks

Chapter 5. The degree of treasury centralization

5.1 Decentralized treasury

5.2 The risk of decentralized treasury

Chapter 6. Centralized treasury

Chapter 7. First phase of centralization

7.1 Multicurrency centers

7.2 Another level of centralization: in-house bank

7.3 The in-house bank and risk management

Chapter 8. Second phase of centralization

8.1 Cash concentration

8.2 Cash pooling

8.3 Real cash pooling

8.4 Overlay concentration structures

8.5 Notional cash pooling

8.6 Cross-border cash pooling

8.7 Multicurrency cash pooling

8.8 Two viewpoints to assess the effectiveness of the cash pooling

8.9 Pooling structures

8.10 Pooling within a holding structure

8.11 Netting

Chapter 9. Third phase of centralization

9.1 Payment factories

9.2 Shared service centers

9.3 What else to consider when centralizing the treasury operations?

Chapter 10. Outsourcing

10.1 Why to outsource?

10.2 What to outsource?

10.3 Choosing a provider of outsourcing

Chapter 11. Regional treasury centers

Chapter 12. Komerční banka's best practices in cash pooling